

CANVAS COURSE QUICK EVALUATION GUIDE

Now that you have finished developing your Canvas course, consider the following questions before going live:

Do your objectives, instructional materials, and assignments all align ~~with~~ ^{and} support each other?

Does your course give students opportunities to engage ~~with~~ ^{and} the content?

Does your course give students opportunities to engage ~~with~~ ^{and} you, the instructor?

Does your course give students opportunities to engage ~~with~~ ^{and} each other?

Are all your materials and assignments accessible to all students?

Do all the links and files in your course function?

Read more about Accessibility & UDA and Engaging Students in Canvas for guidance and ideas.

Once you have finished reflecting on and evaluating your course, consult with an Instructional Designer at CIRT to brainstorm solutions and finalize your course for delivery.
